Ex-MLA Honored On 80th Birthday

"I would help you," are words engraved on a small silver plaque circling the white cane carried by D. H. Galbraith of Bonnow who from 1921 to 1930 represented Nanton in the provincial legislature and in whose honor approximately 200 friends attended the 80th birthday party recently in Fort Calgary House. His three sons, Robert and George (Curly) of Calgary and Douglas of Vulcan were hosts.

The silver engraving on Mr. Galbraith's cane is a prize awarded him for the winning entry in a slogan contest for "White Cane Week." It emphasizes his whole outlook in a long life of service to fellow men.

Blindness took Mr. Galbraith out of public life in 1933, but he set his active mind to creation in other spheres. He turned his farm, 20 miles east of Nanton, which he homesteaded in 1903 over to his son Douglas, and to keep in touch with friends took a typing course. "Happy Thoughts" is a book of verse he published last year.

He has commented that blindness necessitates finding happiness within oneself.

Mr. Galbraith came West in 1903 with an Ontario migration, and had his first political experience in a defeat after a horse and buggy campaign for the federal house in 1917 as a Conservative candidate. He enjoyed large audiences however. "In places where there was no railway and no movie you could always be sure of a fine turnout."

In 1921 he was nominated by both United Farmers of Alberta and the Conservatives and elected to run as an independent UFA. He was so attentive to the Nanton district's needs that in all his years in the legislature not one citizen delegation went to Edmonton. Whatever the district wanted, and from whatever political quarter the request came, Mr. Galbraith saw to it that the case had a hearing.

A prominent athlete in his youth

Darlene Crick, Shirley Burgess and Alan Fletcher were visitors at the Lionel Lucas home in Calgary on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fulton, accompanied by Chris. Boe and Lynell, motored to Armada on Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Boe.

Mrs. Lena Jacobson and Clara were Calgary visitors last week.

F.U.A. Meeting
The regular meeting of the FUA was held in the Redlandview Hall on Monday, Dec. 8.

The business portion was brief owing to light correspondence. It was decided if a curling bonspiel is to be held it will take place towards the end of January. Other locals will be contacted in connection with it. The men served a tasty lunch at the meeting's conclusion.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, Jan. 9. Andy Knave will give a report on the FUA Convention that he is attending in Edmonton this week. A social evening and cards will follow the convention report.

Learning To Detect "Fallout"

QUICK DETECTION of radioactive fallout will mean the saving of many lives in any future war. Alberta Civil Defence Nurse Consultant, Miss Lois Kremer, right, demonstrates the use of a radiation detection instrument to (left to right) Mrs. J. M. Jamison and Miss Margaret Locke, both of Vulcan, who recently took part in a five-day Civil Defence course for nurses at the Alberta Civil Defence School in Edmonton.

Throughout the year the school trains many hundreds of Albertans in the varying aspects of Civil Defence. Candidates apply through local Directors of Civil Defence and the cost of their week-long stay in Edmonton is borne by the Alberta Government.

Credit Union Plan Subject of Talk

The December meeting of the Vulcan-West F.U.A. was held at the Kirkcaldy Hall on Monday, Dec. 1.

Jack Fisher was chosen as delegate with Warner Rockbuck as alternate. Resolutions to be discussed at the Edmonton Convention were read and voted on.

E. J. Ouellette, manager of Alberta Central Credit Union Ltd., took over and showed a film on the Credit Union Movement. He then outlined the growth of Credit Unions from their beginning in Europe to their present growth in our country. A hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Ouellette for his very interesting talk and he expressed the desire to come down again after the new year to further the formation of a Credit Union in the County of Vulcan.

Coffee and doughnuts were served.

Mr. Galbraith was twice winner of a silver trophy of the Ontario College of Agriculture. On making the second presentation, a Guelph jeweler said that since it was unusual to win the trophy twice, Mr. Galbraith was welcome to come into his shop and exchange it for any other prize. "Take one of the jeweler's daughters" called out a member of the audience. Thirteen years later Mr. Galbraith did just that—and Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith headed west to accumulate a host of friends both in the Nanton and Vulcan district and at 2302 Park Avenue Bonnow where they have made their home for the past 25 years.

Paying tribute to Mr. Galbraith at Sunday's gathering, Rev. F. S. Morley cited him as someone who has grown old gracefully, setting an example to his community and his family. "It's what's like to grow old, I'm looking forward to it."

Demonstration On Xmas Decorations

Nineteen members and four visitors were in attendance at the December meeting of the Reid Hill W.I., when Mrs. F. J. Mensinger was the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ross Walker and Mrs. C. Love.

Mrs. Earl Erickson also assisted Mrs. Mensinger. Roll call was answered with "My Earliest Recollection of Christmas" and proved interesting and amusing.

Mrs. C. Love, the retiring president was in the chair and conducted the meeting with Mrs. Edith Marshall, the retiring secretary-treasurer.

The annual report was given by Mrs. Marshall. Correspondence was very light and the business session short. At the conclusion of the regular business, the meeting was turned over to Miss Reid of Claris-holm, District Home Economist, who gave a highly interesting demonstration on Christmas decorations, wrapping and novelty numbers. The members were very interested and came away with many new ideas for making their homes and gifts more attractive.

Additions To Four County Schools Planned

A proposed building program to provide necessary additions to the schools at Milo, Champion, Vulcan and Arrowwood has been approved in principle by the County of Vulcan No. 2. Total cost of the extensive program, including furnishings, is estimated to be $435,000 and the by-law authorizing the County to issue debentures to this amount will be published early in the New Year.

The need for replacement of sub-standard classrooms now in use at certain schools with rooms up to the proper standard and at the same time provide accommodation for the increasing school population has made the project necessary.

At Milo it is proposed to build two standard classrooms and two basement rooms to be used as library and for auto-visual aids and typing. The cost of this addition to the present Milo school is estimated to be $50,000, complete with furnishings.

At Champion, the proposed addition of four standard classrooms to the present Jr.-Sr. high school will replace the old three-room school which is not modern and is in poor repair and will provide one additional classroom for increased enrollment. The basement rooms under the new addition will provide a library, study room, science room, audio-visual aids room and storage room. Estimated cost, complete with furnishings, is $110,000.

At Vulcan, a one-storey addition to the Elementary School is planned to provide six standard classrooms. This will permit removal of the pupils from the four sub-standard basement classrooms now in use and will provide two additional classrooms for increased enrollment. Included in the proposed new addition will be extra lavatory accommodation, a principal's office, staff room and a smaller-type gymnasium incorporating an audio-visual aids room. In addition to pupil assemblies, the gymnasium will be used for physical training and will also provide an indoor play area for use in inclement weather, serving 14 classrooms. Enrollment at the Vulcan Elementary School is now over 400 pupils, out of a total County school population of 1,800. Cost of this addition, complete with furnishings, is estimated to be $175,000.

It is hoped that construction work on these proposed school additions can be started in the early spring.

LICKING CANADA'S MUSKEG problem calls for vehicles which can travel over surfaces which wouldn't even support a man walking. The "Centipede" (above) which went into service this fall as a supply vehicle for Imperial Oil exploration parties operating in muskeg country, spreads its weight — and that of a load of up to eight tons — on two jointed surfaces which move along on tracks 42

Tattered and Torn

In any office or store where the telephone directory is used frequently, it rapidly becomes a tattered and frustrating booklet. A poor quality paper stock is used and the type is much too small for a directory of this type. The interests of economy and "cheap" publication which is evident in both the paper and the crammed type is not sound economy and does not give the subscriber service to which he is entitled. The telephone directory is issued and distributed as a necessary adjunct to telephone service and those who pay for this service are entitled to more consideration in books than the rag and tatters example produced.

The directory and the system is of course, an example of a government owned and operated monopoly and would hardly be mistaken for a private business operating under competition. The government department reduces the possibility of competition in its directory and protects its advertising revenue in that book by copyright. In many instances communities wishing to issue their own telephone directories have been stopped by this "copyright" threat. In those cases where publication has been made, regardless of the government threats, subscribers are favored with a local directory which provides them with a more convenient listing, is printed on better quality paper and is more readable because of the larger type size used in the listings.

One can understand the desire of Alberta Government Telephones in protecting its revenue from directory advertising and the authorities would undoubtedly claim that the revenue from this advertising source means a saving to telephone subscribers. The wisdom of those who use this advertising media is a matter of question for they are using a vehicle for their advertising which is low in quality, frustrating in use and difficult to read.

There seems to be at least two choices to better a bad situation. The present directory can be printed on a lasting paper stock and employ type that is large enough to read — or the present monopoly on directories can be dropped and smaller communities, at least, will be able to produce a directory which will serve the purpose for which it is intended.

CIVIL DEFENCE

We have mentioned items (essential and desired) for your emergency evacuation pack.

It would be foolish of us to think that all who read this article have now emergency packs in their homes, but please keep an adequate supply of canned goods, condensed milk, etc., on hand at all times. By doing this it would only take a few minutes to make up a pack for your basement or car, if an emergency arose.

MAJORVILLE

John Bartsch went to Elnora last week where he joined his brother-in-law, Donald Campbell, on a big game hunting trip.

Mrs. Hugh Winch was hostess for a Stanley tea last Saturday afternoon when a number of neighbors were guests. An afternoon of games and contests was enjoyed as well as a demonstration on makeup and the use of the various Stanley products. Mrs. Elliott of Mossleigh was the demonstrator. Mrs. Winch served afternoon tea.

After a few days of mild weather we are once more back in the deep freeze. The temperature dropped to 22 below on Saturday morning so it is cold outside, but roads are good and travelling is no problem. The flu bug or something is pestering several folks with stiff necks, sore throats and sick stomachs. Coughs and colds are also on the complaint list.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Winch and family were Christmas shopping in Calgary this week.

Moscow, USSR Program

A short time ago Bert Clemmons was fooling around with the dials of his long and short wave radio when he tuned in on an English language program in Moscow, USSR. At the end of a list of answers to questions sent in by listeners from various places, the announcer asked that other questions be sent, so Bert wrote and asked about tourist travel in the USSR.

He received a letter telling him when and at what time his question would be answered, and on that evening he was given information on tourist travel in that country. It seems one may travel alone but this costs quite a lot more money than when travelling with a group. This latter method is the one the USSR prefers. No doubt the extra fee for travelling is necessary to provide guides and interpreters. They would welcome Mr. Clemmons any time he chooses to visit their country. Bert's other question was in relation to agriculture and was answered through another listener from Camrose who had sent in a similar question. According to that answer all visitors from North America are amazed at the size of their farm machinery, but as they did not give the capacity of their machines size alone is not a comparison.

Included with the letter were two post cards one of the globe of the world with the first "sputnik" whirling around it and the other a picture of the Lenin library in Moscow. This building could be a picture of a library building in almost any city but one ponders the question what type books and literature is available to the residents of Moscow.

The type of program they send out is a real propaganda variety as by the question and answer outlet they know just where and approximately how many listeners are tuned in.

Money doesn't always bring happiness. A man with ten million dollars is no happier than a man with nine million dollars.

HERRONTON

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Perry spent a few days in Calgary to do their Christmas shopping.

Stu Beagle, Ted Percival, Ted Seney and Ron Baker took in the Second Annual Rainbow Bonspiel in Lethbridge on the weekend.

Farewell Party

A very well attended farewell party was held on Saturday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malmberg who have left this district to live in their new home in Calgary. Cards were played and the winners were as follows: High lady, Mrs. Jim Davies; low lady, Mrs. Walter Isyk; high man, Cecil Green; low man, Varno Westersund.

On behalf of those present, Varno Westersund presented the guests of honor with a copper fireplace set. Harley Hutton presented them with a large picture from their friends and neighbors of Mossleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Malmberg and small daughter of Lethbridge, were able to be present for their parents' farewell party.

Other parts of the body assist the speaker, but the hands speak themselves. —Quintillian

VULCAN FURNITURE

Vulcan, Alberta

FURNITURE IS MY LINE

By Bruce Morgan
A Weekly Information Column

In the preceding five weeks this column has tried to give the prospective furniture buyer an idea of what to look for when buying furniture.

As most of the factors which govern the quality of a piece of living room furniture cannot easily be determined from the outside, the average homemaker will have to use other means to make sure that he, or she, gets value for money. This is quite simple if one considers that every chesterfield is made up of a frame, springs, padding and fabric, and requires a certain amount of labor to be assembled. The difference in cost between a very cheap and an extremely expensive piece of furniture must obviously be in the amount of materials used, the quality of these materials, and the time and care it takes to be manufactured.

The buyers of the retail stores have been trained to obtain the best value for the money they spend, and, as reputable retailers do not overcharge their customers, it is a safe bet that one gets exactly what one pays for. The homemaker who purchases a low-priced suite may well end up by spending good money after bad to have it repaired or replaced, while for just a little more investment initially, this would not have been necessary.

Our Company does not, and will not, produce the cheapest furniture, but we are proud to say that we give full value for the price we charge.

Remember we watch our interests by watching yours.

The district has been caught in the grip of cold winter-like weather once again with temperatures well below zero. Some residents have found it impossible to get their cars and trucks started and a few have even had trouble with their furnaces. Seems those things wait for the cold weather to cause their owners unwelcome trouble. Cattle are returning to feed and shelter each evening and a neighbor while trailing his herd to a waterhole reports seeing a pack of twelve or thirteen coyotes.

High River Auction Mart has been a popular place for the sale of Armada cattle this past fall. Three loads were on hand on Saturday, being hauled by Melvin Magnuson, Frank Boyd and Bill Frotherwood. Ross Chambers hauled his calves over during the week.

The social evening held at the hall was fairly successful in spite of the cold weather and below zero temperatures. The evening was spent playing games, relay races and several stunts being performed on the stage which caused considerable laughter. Lunch was served in the basement after which everyone packed their weary bones home to rest.

Mrs. Leonard Marks and baby are spending a few days with her mother at Queenstown after returning from a trip to U.S. points end Victoria, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Howerton of Champion were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Clifford.

Exchange of Christmas gifts took place. Mrs. Mary Birkenes and Mrs. Blanche Williams, who have left Armada to make their homes in Vulcan and Lomond, were presented with going-away gifts for which they both expressed their thanks.
